Grasshoppers Invade Saratoga.

Albany, N. Y., May 19.—Reports of a grasshopper invasion near Saratoga today caused State Commissioner of Agriculture Wilson to plan an investigation of the danger of another plague such as experienced last year. It has been unofficially reported that the grasshopper also has appeared near Glensville. No appropriation is available this year for fighting pests.

BARREL OF WINE

Cause of Lengthy Trial in Superior Court Wednesday—Claim That Consignment from Greece Was Damaged in Unloading.

The case of Yonclaus against Weeks was heard in the superior court Wednesday morning, with Judge James H.
Webb occupying the bench. The case was a suit for damages for the loss of a barrel of wine which the plaintiff claimed was lost through negligent handling of the barrel by the defendant in delivering it.

Peter Yonclaus, the plaintiff, testified that his cousin, George Yonclaus, sent to this country the cases of olive oil and a keg of wine, from his home in Greece; that they arrived in this country on a ship owned by the plaintiff's father. He was upstairs in the house when he heard a loud noise and went down to investigate.
He said the wine was worth $1.50 a gallon and the duty amounted to $43.33.
The freight and storage charges $1.75.
On this amount, plaintiff paid for the duty and in cash for the freight.
The railroad, check and notice from the company, together with one or two letters written to New York parties. There were about 67 gallons of wine. The cross-examination included duty on olive oil, which was not claimed by the plaintiff.

The cross-examination was chiefly concerned with an attempt to separate out the freight and duty charges on the wine. The plaintiff testified that the consignment, and to draw out an admission that the goods were in bad order when received at the railroad station.
Edward S. Wyatt of this city, chief clerk for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, testified that the barrel of wine was in good shape when it arrived at the station.
He testified for a slight bump on the top head. The keg was about one and a half inches in diameter and was the size of the keg. Cooley, the truckman, signed for the goods with one barrel in bad order on account of the slight bump.

Mrs. George Yonclaus, wife of the plaintiff, saw the barrel of wine when it was unloaded into the cellar.
The witness had trouble in understanding the questions and making her story intelligible, but her story seemed to be that the boys unloaded the wine quickly, one standing at the bottom of the cellar, the other at the top, and the barrel got away from them and rolled down the last four stairs, breaking when it struck the wall.

A short recess was taken, after which John P. Demers was sworn as interpreter and the examination continued. She said they dropped the barrel in lifting it from the wagon and it left a mark on the ground where it fell. The rest of her story was about as told previously. The head of the barrel came out when it struck the wall. No skids, ropes, blocks or chains were used by the men, only their hands.
Samuel D. Snow, painter of this city, testified he was painting the Yonclaus house at that time, and when he got to the house he saw the barrel with both heads out, and there was an odor of wine on the premises. He did not examine the barrel heads.
Charles Baker, an expressman, of 17 years' experience in heavy trucking, testified he had examined the premises and gave the barrel a value of $50—size 7, value $1.25, sale price 95c—size 8, value $1.35, sale price $1.05.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.

There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a ringing sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Assignment to Court.

Tuesday, May 5, at Willimantic—William W. Penfield vs. Donato De-carlo, et al.; William W. Penfield vs.
Donato Decario.

DIES IN 91ST YEAR.

William B. Johnston, Husband of Prudence Harvey, Formerly of Norwich.

William B. Johnston, 90, died at his home on Pleasant street about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning of general debility due to age. Mr. Johnston was a native of Norwich, where he lived until 1824. He came to this city when 27 years of age and had resided here ever since. He was a carpenter by trade and was employed by the Willimantic Manufacturing company for 27 years, but had not worked at that trade for 25 years. He was a member of St. Paul's P. E. church and of Eastern Star lodge, No.
44, A. F. and A. M.

After surviving the deceased his wife, formerly Miss Prudence Harvey, of Norwich, a son, William S. Johnston, and a granddaughter, Muriel P. Johnston, of this city, and a nephew, Samuel Moran, of Norwich.

Mrs. Bridget Connor, a former resident of this city, died in New Haven Tuesday. The body was brought to this city Wednesday and taken in charge by a local undertaker. One daughter, Nora, also of New Haven, survives the deceased.

Mrs. Abby F. Pollard.
The body of Abby F. Pollard, 88, who died in Springfield, Mass., Tuesday, was brought to this city Wednesday and taken in charge by Funeral Director Jay M. Shepard. She was the grandmother of Ernest H.
Woodworth of South Coventry and well known to many of the older residents of Willimantic.

In a Few Words.

Men in the employ of the water department are busy repairing a leak in service line near the street near the yard of the Willimantic Lumber and Coal company.

About 35 members of St. John's community joined for a service Wednesday to be present at the initiation of a large class of Shriners. Some made the trip by automobile and the balance went on the 4 o'clock train.

Trap rock is being unloaded on Pleasant street in the section near the Yeocoe home and a room there to Bridge street, and the roller is at work there.
The city's men are also putting trap rock on Walnut street preparatory to a redressing.

Water is still needed in this section, according to Superintendent Moulton of the water department. Mr. Moulton states that the steam pumps at the pumping station will soon have to be used, as the supply of water there is lower than it has been for some years.

Friends of Harry A. McLaughlin, former physical director at the Willimantic Y. M. C. A. will be pleased to hear that he has given satisfaction at the Middletown Y. M. C. A., where he has been acting as physical director for the past year and has been re-engaged for the coming season.

Work is progressing favorably on the improvements in the Johnson house. Wednesday workmen were laying a floor in the office, which has been enlarged, and were also busy in the pool room where new tables are being installed. The garage at the rear of the property is well along toward completion.

Attorney T. J. Kelley of this city was in Hartford Wednesday in the interests of Lee Him, one of the Chicagoan arrested in Willimantic last winter, charged with being in the country in violation of the exclusion law. A hearing in the matter was held before U. S. Commissioner Richard Carroll, at which Mayor Dunn was also present.

Brief Mention.

Mrs. C. E. Valentine was in Pomfret Wednesday.
Miss Sadie Bowman is visiting at her C. J. Alpaugh is in Fall River on business for the American Thread Co.
Mrs. James Lawler and daughter are in Boston for the remainder of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones have returned to Oakville after a week's stay in this city.

The train from Boston due in this Capital $100,000. Surplus and Profits $160,000.
